INTEREST CENTERS IN CONVENTION

Republicans Occupy Boards in Paducah This Week.

Probable List of Candidates for the City Ticket to Be Chosen Tomorrow.

FEW NEW FACES AMONG THEM.

Political interest in Paducah centers about the action of the Republican convention at the city hall tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, when candidates for city judge, boards of aldermen and councilmen and school trustees will be selected. There are four vacancies in the aldermanic board, caused by the expirations of the terms of the members, and it is expected that the incumbents will be accorded renominations unless they decline to accept. They are President O. B. Starks and Aldermen E. E. Bell, John Farley and W. T. Miller. They are elected from the city at large.

There will be three new names on the councilmanic ticket, caused by the declination of President George O. McBroom, of the First ward, and L. F. Kolb, of the Third ward, to run again, and the nomination of Councilman Race Dipple, whose place was temporarily filled by an appointment of Mayor Velsor. The other members, whose terms expire and who are expected to run again, are Councilmen G. M. Oehlschlaeger, of the Second ward; H. W. Katterjohn, of the Fourth ward; Samuel Hill, of the Fifth ward, and R. S. Barnett, of the Sixth ward.

Several available men for the vacancies have been mentioned, among whom are H. S. Wells, in the Third ward to succeed Councilman L. F. Kolb; John W. Behout, in the First ward, to succeed President George O. McBroom and P. S. Johnston, as running mate for Councilman Katterjohn to succeed Councilman Race Dipple.

It is believed that all the school trustees whose terms expire, except L. Peiter, of the Fifth ward, will accept renominations. In the Fifth ward are two vacancies, as Trustee Byrd was not qualified for the place when he ran before, but by courtesy of the school board was appointed to fill the vacancy until the next regular election. In that ward John Murray and H. C. Marlow, are prominently mentioned as available for candidates.

Other members, who probably will be renominated, are President Williamson of the Second ward; H. Gallman, of the First ward; Dr. W. H. Pitcher, of the Third ward; P. Beckenbach of the Fourth ward, and Dr. J. S. Troutman, of the Sixth ward.

Hon. E. W. Bagby is probably most prominently mentioned for city judge. He has been approached by different delegations of Democrats, requesting him to make the race, and he apparently will carry great strength in the contest. He has considered the matter and decided to allow his name to be used, although it was against his desire in the beginning.

President George O. McBroom, of the board of councilmen, has been urged by friends to stand for the nomination, and others are mentioned as available.

JOHN S. HOPKINS SAVED BY SHOREWARD BREEZE

Pilot House of Steamer Was Consumed By Flames This Morning.

Crew and Firemen, Aided By Wind, Work Valiantly and Prevent Spread of Fire.

FIRE ORIGINATED FROM THE STOVE

Wind saved the steamer John S. Hopkins from total destruction by fire this morning at 7 o'clock. The fire started in the forward end of the Texas cabin or pilot house, presumably from the stove, the only fire on the boat. Some think that sparks from the smoldering fire in the McKinnle Veneer and Lumber company's yard set the steamer afire.

The damage will be $2,000 fully covered by insurance. The personal effects of the captain and crew were burned or ruined by water. Much was thrown overboard in fighting the fire.

The theory of a spark from the shore is offset by the direction the wind was blowing, which was on shore. The wind, blowing away from the boat, prevented the flames from spreading rapidly, and the splendid work of fire company No. 2, saved the boat.

Started by the furious ringing of the boat's bell, the crew of the Hopkins returned from breakfast on shore, hurried to an open view of the river on Myers street and saw the steamer on fire. Dick Brown, a colored helper on the boat, was the only person there and discovered the fire.

Hose was laid from Myers street to the river's bank, many hundreds of yards distant and difficult to cover. The firemen under the direction of Acting Chief Lake Elliott, carried the hose right up onto the burning steamer, which at that time seemed doomed. After the stream began to play on the fire it was soon under control. Only the shell of the Texas cabin remains, and the pilot house with the steering wheel and gear are gone. Water soaked through the floor of the Texas injured the passenger cabin and storerooms.

The Hopkins is valued at $25,000, and was insured for $10,000 with the Green & Green Underwriters agency of Evansville. This company was notified by telegraph of the fire this morning and an adjuster is expected tomorrow. The burned parts will be rebuilt immediately. The Hopkins had expected to resume the Evansville trade next week.

Capt. Harry Gilbert is in command and was at breakfast down town when he learned of the fire. In the crew were Harry Stanley and Ed Latham, engineers; Clyde Shaw, carpenter; a sailor, mate and watchman. All their clothes except what they wore were lost.

The Hopkins has been tied to the bank of the Tennessee river just below the McKinnle mill for several weeks, and went through the fire at that mill without leaving the shore. The crew have been taking their meals on shore at Fourth and Myers street.

Fire is still active in the sawdust heaps at the McKinnle mill and fire company No. 2 remained after saving the boat, to renew the effort to put it out.

The board will also look after the filling in of Caldwell street where the new concrete culvert was built.

Paris, Oct. 10.—A dispatch to the Petit Parisien from Constantinople declares that the real secret of the recent illness of the sultan of Turkey was that he was shot in the abdomen by a Kurdish woman who was jealous of his latest favorite in the harem, a beautiful Circassian girl. FROSTY FINGERS MUFFED THE BALL

And One Winning Run Was Tallied By Americans.

Snow Fell During Big Championship Game in Chicago and Only 12,000 Attended.

HOW THE SCORES WERE MADE

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 10.—The Chicago team of the American league won from the National league pennant winners 2 to 1 in the first game of the world's championship series.

The game furnished a fine example of modern baseball wherein the fine points of the game are more in evidence than the slugging of earlier days, but it was an error of penmanship which gave the American league team its winning margin. And that error also is the reason that the winning team, erstwhile demanding odds in the betting is willing to take even money on the series.

From early morning until noon when the gates were opened several thousand men lined up in front of the box office and by 1:30 most of those who expected to see the game were in their seats.

Snow fell several times during the afternoon and was making a good showing when at 2:30 the play was begun. One hundred policemen were on hand to preserve order and for the first time in years they succeeded, aided partly by wire cables strung around the field and partly by the fact that only 12,000 persons were present.

It was the lot of Right Fielder Hahn of the American league team to walk before the great crowd as the first man at the bat. He ingloriously missed three good ones, thus becoming the first of seven men to perform likewise before Pitcher Brown. For four innings it was machine made baseball of perfect type, only one man—Schulte—of the Nationals reaching first base. Schulte stole second and Captain Chance, with grim determination written in the lines of his jaw, changed bats and faced pitcher Alcock. Chance swung viciously but his hot grounders were nipped by Alcock with one hand and that chance to score was gone.

Numbered Fingers Made Errors.

In the first half of the fifth however Hahn electrified the crowd by sending a stinging hit down third base line and under the benches in Sheppard's territory, reaching third base on the hit. Donohue struck out attempting to bunt, but Dougherty laid down an easy one half way between the pitcher and catcher. Brown scooped up the ball and tossed it to Kling, who was tearing wildly for the plate and he got there, for Kling's frost-bitten fingers refused to close around the ball.

In their half the Nationals went out, one, two, three. Next inning the Americans scored again. Alcock walked, Hahn sacrificed, Jones singled to center but Hoffman's perfect throw caught Alcock at the plate by a yard. Jones reaching second on the play. He reached third when Kling fumbled the ball for a moment and crossed the plate with the second run of the game when Ishell singled to left.

The Nationals also scored in this inning. Kling was given a pass and went to second on Brown's single over third base. Both advanced a base on Hoffman's sacrifice and Kling scored a moment later on a wild pitch. Sheppard, however, was out on a fly and Schulte perished. Rohe to Donohue, the latter falling flat on his back, but holding the throw in his gloved hand as he fell.

American Enthusiasts Noisy.

Thereafter neither pitcher was in critical position and after one hour and forty-five minutes play, Jones caught Schulte's final effort and the crowd flowed into the field.

Here is the score:
Amer. . . 0 0 0 1 1 0 0 0-2 10

Batteries—Brown and Kling; Alcock and Sullivan.

The summary: Left on bases, Nationals 4, Americans 3; three base hits, Rohe; sacrifice hits, Hahn, Hoffman and Brown; stolen bases, Schulte, Ishell and Dougherty; struck out, by Brown 7; by Alcock 3; passed balls, Kling 3; base on balls, off Brown 1, off Alcock 1; wild pitch, Alcock.

Impress—Johnstone and O'Laughlin.

Found Wandering The Streets of Louisville.

Sold Their Mother Lives in Paducah and They Seek Fortune at Race Track.

ARE NOT KNOWN BY POLICE.

A Louisville dispatch received this morning advises that Edward and Clovis Holland, 13 and 12 years old, respectively, were taken into custody at that city yesterday and will be sent back home to Paducah. They were barefooted and had no money. They stated they wanted to follow the races and earn a livelihood. The boys claimed their father was dead and that their mother lives in Paducah. Following is the dispatch:

Edward Holland, ten years old, and his brother, Clovis Holland, twelve years old, were taken into custody today at the city hall and will be sent to their home in Paducah, which they left several days ago with a view to earning a living by following the races. They were ragged and barefooted when taken in charge. They came to Louisville last night in a freight car, and said they almost froze to death in the car. They said their father was dead, but their mother is living in Paducah. They left home to earn their own living.

The two boys are brothers of Edgar Holland, charged with beating George Marshall with a steel roller at the Columbus mill's Monday evening.

PENNSV CUTS RATES.

Announces Two Cent Fare for Mileage.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—The Pennsylvania railroad announces that on November 1 it will place on sale in its western division, without limit as to time or user, a 1,000-mile book for $20, or at the rate of two cents a mile. This step is a measure of retaliation against the Erie railroad for its decision to reduce passenger rates to 2 1/2 cents a mile.

In the opinion of railroad authorities, the course of the Pennsylvania amounts to a virtual reduction of the passenger rate to two cents a mile in the entire territory of the Central Passenger Association.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, ease yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Read this Paducah testimony:

Mrs. Charles Williams, of 700 Terrell street, Paducah, says: "Despite the use of plaster and home remedies my back ached almost continually, and as my husband who is employed by the Slager Sewing Machine Co., on Third street, continually complained of his, we were both constantly on the lookout for some means to check or eradicate the cause. CASE FOR STATE AGAINST STANDARD

Is Explained By Prosecuting Attorney in Ohio.

Chas. Rockefeller Corporation Maintains Monopoly on the Oil Business.

HISTORY OF PROCEEDINGS.

Findlay, O., Oct. 10.—The Standard Oil company of Ohio was put on trial here yesterday, charged with conspiracy against trade in violation of the state anti-trust laws. The penalty prescribed is a fine of from $50 to $5,000, or from six to twelve months' imprisonment. John D. Rockefeller was granted a separate trial.

What the state expects to prove against the Standard Oil company of Ohio was made the subject of a lengthy address to the jury by County Prosecutor David.

The object of the "trust" was to control the oil business, and 30 per cent, of the capital, skill and property engaged in the oil business in the United States was gathered into the "trust," which was controlled by nine trustees. This arrangement continued for ten years, during which time 12 companies subsidiary to the trust, but controlled by it, were organized.

The supreme court of the state found the Standard Oil trust to be monopolistic and against public policy and ordered the trust dissolved.

Mr. David asserted that it is expected in this trial to prove that the board of trustees of the local companies he had named never did and never intended to comply with that order of the court, although technically they may have observed the same in the letter.

Back to the Old.

In 1899, he said John D. Rockefeller and the same trustees were still controlling the policies and business of the Standard Oil trust. The Standard Oil company of New Jersey was organized as a "holding company," with capital stock of $110,000,000 and increased corporate power, which included the right to buy, hold and vote the stock of the other corporations. John D. Rockefeller, he said, was the largest stockholder and was president of the corporation.

Between the years 1899 and 1901, Mr. David said, the New Jersey organization issued $95,000,000 of capital stock, and purchased nearly all of the stock of the subsidiary companies in the trust.

Mr. David then stated that F. Q. Harkiss, a director in the New Jersey company, is president of the Standard Oil company of Ohio; that H. H. Rogers, a director in the New Jersey corporation, is president of the Buckeye Pipe Line company; that John Archbold, a director in the New Jersey corporation, is president of the Ohio Oil company and the Solar Refining company.

As to the business methods of the local companies, he said the Standard Oil company of Ohio and Solar Refining company refined oil, the Ohio Oil company was a producer of crude petroleum and located at this time engaged in building a pipe line from the Illinois oil fields to connect with the Indiana Pipe company; that the Buckeye Pipe Line company is a marketing and transportation company.

Mr. David said the state would show that while oil of these refineries needed crude oil to refine, they never compete in its purchase, and while they had to sell they never compete in its sale in Hancock county.

PURE OLIVE OIL.

Says Government Report, Is Nothing But Cotton Seed Oil.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—"Undoubtedly a large proportion of the olive oil imported into the United States," says an official publication of the bureau of manufacturers today, "is composed of that cotton seed oil which the American people refuse to consume in its honest form, but consume when imported under the several well known brands of the old world's famous olive oils." The bureau takes the position in favor of an official analysis of cotton oil and a government assurance of its purity and wholesomeness before it is put on the market.

New York, Oct. 10.—Local registration in this city yesterday was 221,287, against 204,612 the first day of last year. The interesting gubernatorial contest in New York state is responsible for the big registration. There was no trouble during the day. Early indications were that the registration would be light, but the voters came out in great numbers.

We have secured the use of the Johnston Stretching Machine and it is now in operation in our store. This machine stretches the particular spot in your shoe which harts your foot and does it without injuring the looks of the shoe.

By the use of this machine it is no longer necessary to cut your shoe to relieve pain.

You no longer have to buy an unsightly shoe in order to be comfortable. Come in and select the style that suits your head and we will guarantee to fit your foot.

If your shoe fits everywhere but rubs the heel, in two minutes we'll remove the cause of the pain. If your shoe fits perfectly except for a corn or bunion, this machine will stretch the shoe in such a way that the pressure on the sore part will be relieved.

This machine, by a harmless and unnoticeable stretching of the shoe, relieves pain from a bunion on the inside of the foot; a corn on the little toe; callous or corns in center of foot; believes tight instep; relieves and cures ingrowing toe nail or corn on top of big toe; relieves soft corn between the toes so that in standing or walking there will be no friction, causing the parts to heal and the corn to pass off; relieves curl or bridge toes; rectifies running over of the heel on the outside.

These are strong assertions, but we can back them up. The patentees of this machine do not sell them, but rent them to the best shoe stores in the different cities in the United States. You can now buy a shoe the size of your foot and the painful places will be relieved.

There will be no charge to anybody at any time for the use of this machine. We have secured it for the convenience of the public and whether you are a regular customer or not, you will be more than welcome for the relief it affords.

We are showing our fall and winter stock now and the range of choice takes in the finest shoes made in the world, to the more reasonable priced ones.

COCK FIGHT

WILL BE PULLED OFF ACROSS THE OHIO RIVER.

Paducah and Cranesville Sports Are to Match Chickens in the Pit October 12.

Paducah against Cranesville, with more than a dozen purses of from $10 to $25, is the program for October 12 in what promises to be the biggest cock fight pulled off in this section in years. Because of the laws governing cock fighting the plans have been kept quiet, and only leaked out recently.

For years Cranesville has beaten Paducah in this sport, but local sportsmen are as game as their chickens and will go on again. There are twelve chickens to go in the first fight. They are owned by two Paducahans and some of them are imported for the purpose.

The Cranesville chickens are the same strain that has taken first money for several seasons. The fights are to be pulled off in Illinois, the location to be selected later. It will be the first cock fight in this section since February.

Daily Thought.

"History makes its records in straight lines, which are drawn ruthlessly across human plans and follies."

KEEP UP THE WORK.

Not for a day, not just to bring a few hundred families of immigrants to western Kentucky was the immigration association organized, but to guide the stream of immigration into this section year after year until all our waste lands are under cultivation and the county is settled with hardy farmers. And, it is not alone the man who has land to sell, that must take active interest in the movement. He is benefited to be sure, but not more so than the tradesman, the artisan, the professional man, the common carrier and every other individual and concern contributing to and living off the wealth of the community. The immigration movement has for its excuse a two-fold purpose: to bring immigrants here and to supervise immigration, so that no drones may be let into this industrial community. The presence of an additional wealth producer adds to the potential wealth of every other man in the community, and Paducah especially must benefit by the growth of western Kentucky. She is the natural metropolis of the region occupying an industrial and commercial position unassailable as long as her inhabitants keep pace with the times. At present much of our wonder goes out of the city and out of the section to buy food stuffs. The country is not self-supporting. In that it does not raise all the products to be made into food. Paducah has no flour mill and must purchase flour away from home. The advent of the small foreign farmer with his ability to raise diversified crops will go far toward changing conditions, and certainly will more than double the wealth producing capacity of the land. With a prosperous surrounding country paying annual tribute to Paducah, the city must grow as it never grew before, and the extension of traction, lines that necessarily must follow an increase in population will draw outlying communities nearer to Paducah, widening her sphere of influence and making her more than ever the Pride of the whole purchase. The good of the immigration convention will not be measured by the results of one year, but ten years, and some means should be taken to insure the perpetuity of the association. Incorporation was the means adopted in Charleston, S. C., and it may be the officers of this association will see fit to follow that example. Whatever is done for the best the people must contribute to its support.

The Republican convention will at the city hall tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Re-nominations of all members of the

the choice of a candidate for city judge to head the ticket must be left to the judgment of the delegates.
There is a chance to win. The action of the delegates will strengthen or weaken the whole ticket. The man should be chosen who can carry the largest element of the opposition to the Democratic candidate and at the same time command his own party strength. It is not enough to nominate a good man. He must be the strongest man in addition to his honesty. The delegates have a great responsibility on them and they should exercise unhampered discretion in making the selection.

Paducah does not want a mayor for whom office hours have to be prescribed, and the general council does well to withdraw the school boy rule that confines the executive to his office chair. We believe in proper restrictions on the conduct of every public office, but not on the personal liberties of the incumbent. The mayor is directly responsible to the people for the execution of his trust and fixing his working hours will not improve his administration. We favor giving the executive the fullest measure of discretion and then placing the responsibility to him, and we know that is exactly what our Democratic "Uncle David" Veiser would like.

CORN-FED FISH FOR CHICAGO

German Carp Bask for New Industry of Wisconsin Village.

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 10.—Inhabitants of Willmet village have opened up a new industry in fattening fish for the Chicago market. German carp, which are plentiful in Fox river, are scooped up in nets and placed in a big pen fenced off in a small stream. They are fed on corn and grain the same as hogs. It is claimed the fish take on flesh rapidly, and it is not uncommon to take carp from the pen weighing from thirty to fifty pounds. Last year the indigenous workers in the new industry sold over two tons of fish fattened in this way. This season they will dispose of twenty tons, as there is a good demand. The fish are ready for the market about the middle of January.

Miss Hated in Oklahoma.

Miss Anne Sherrill Baird, who makes her home in this city with her sister, Mrs. Luke Russell, on West Jefferson street, and is a newspaper woman of brilliancy and ability, connected with both the Nashville Banner and the official organ of the Hoosier, has been "seeing" Oklahoma. She gives her impressions of the "new star" state in a breezy letter to the Banner with the following lead:

"It is my fate to always see the afterglow. I am never on hand when things are really doing. When the shouting and tumult dies, then I slide in at the back gate as it were, and view what's left. Last year I toured up and down the Pacific coast. I saw the mission of San Gabriel—and discovered that the door was fastened with a Yale lock and that the building was lighted with electricity—dinky little bulbs that hang from the century-old beams. I do not in the least doubt that when I go to Venice the gondoliers will all be rigged out in hand-me-down shirts and derby hats. Never do I come face to face with romance. Always has the picturesque vanished down the road before I turn the corner. In Oklahoma the phases of life that are typically western are fast passing away. The roar of commerce has scared the coyotes to death. The wild and woolly west has grown respectable if not prosaic, and the romance and glamour of pioneer times no longer gild the days. I rode around over the prairie—in an automobile. Doesn't that sound silly? It does not improve matters to call the thing a "motor car" or a "machine." The fact remains that I always land too late."

Boston, Oct. 10.—John Moran, nominee for governor on three tickets, Democratic, Prohibition and Independent, may decline to run on any. He announced he would decline the Democratic nomination because contrary to his expressed wishes, the platform endorsed the presidential candidacy of Bryan.

DID U KNOW?

That the heat units in a HEATING STOVE is what counts in heating cold air? A stove may put forth its best efforts to serve, but lacking in heat units, can only heat a little space around it.

HART'S HEATERS

Are made with heat units everywhere. The larger stoves have very powerful circulation features also, making it easy for HART'S STOVES to do the work, which is the reason they use so LITTLE FUEL and LAST so LONG.

Theatrical Notes

KENTUCKY THIS WEEK.
Wednesday "House of Mystery"
Friday Father Nagel lectures

A representative melodramatic production will be the attraction at The Kentucky tonight, and is called Scene from the "House of Mystery" at The Kentucky tonight.

"The House of Mystery," a play in four acts, written by Langdon McCormick. Each and every act abounds in wholesome comedy, sentiment, pathos and original effects, unfolded in a plot, new in theme, sensational, realistic portrayed by an exceptionally clever company of players, while as a scenic production it far exceeds anything of its kind heretofore presented. The electrical effects, illusions, etc., as introduced in the third act of the play is a work of stage mechanism once seen always remembered.

Lecture on Columbus.

The sale of seats for the entertainment to be given at The Kentucky Friday night has been very good and indications are for a good house. The Rev. Father Nagel, who was here at the Chautauqua and delivered one of his famous lectures, will lecture on Columbus.

"J. T." Runs Away With Purse at Mayfield Fair.

Winning two heats in 2:13 and 2:21, respectively, "J. T." Charles Clark's now famous pacer, took all the money in the pacing event at the Graves county fair yesterday. It was agreed that the whole purse should be hung up and all the money should go to the winner. It was easy for the great horse, which swept away from the field. "J. T." has been tracked but a few weeks and the owner is justly proud of "J. T.'s" performance.

Sucked Under Moving Train.

Louisville, Ky., while walking along the Louisville & Nashville track this morning, R. E. Buckner was seized with vertigo, and fell just as the south-bound fast train flashed by. The suction drew Buckner onto the track, and held him close to the rail, as if in a vise. The entire train of seven coaches passed over the prostrate man, who was picked up by the flanges of the wheels. It was found that the flanges had ground the side of his coat and trousers into shreds, but that, save for a few scratches on the body, he was unharmed. Buckner, who is 60 years old, says he recovered consciousness while the train was passing over him, and expected every moment to be ground to pieces.

Horse Committed Suicide.

Munfordville, Ky., Oct. 10.—A horse belonging to J. M. Craddock, of this place, was found dead yesterday morning under circumstances that strongly indicate suicide. The stable door stood near an ice-house. It appears that the horse deliberately turned himself out of this stall, a thing that never happened before, and jumped into the icehouse, which was of the old-fashioned cellar variety.

Brother Against Brother.

Sergeant, Ky., Oct. 10.—As the result of an old family grudge, on Porter's fork of Boone creek, above here, John Wright, Jr., aged thirty-nine years, struck Sol Wright, aged forty-two years, his brother across the forehead with an old-fashioned shotgun, inflicting perhaps fatal wounds. There is little hope of his recovery.

OHIO TURNS OUT NEW PRODIGY

Farmer Says He Grows Pumpkin That Tastes Like a Tomato.

Gallipolis, O., Oct. 10.—The pumpkin, or the tomato, whichever it may be called, is the latest addition to the flora of Ohio. It is the invention of Edward Womeldorf, a young farmer. Late in the season he set out some climbing tomato plants close to a telephone pole. Near by were pumpkin vines. One of the tomato plants and one of the pumpkin vines amalgamated and the product of the confluence climbed the telegraph pole. The joint vine prolonged itself over the wires and the current of electricity pervaded it. Vegetables developed in the course of time, but while each retained its outward form, each borrowed the characteristics of the other. The tomato instead of being like pumpkin and the pumpkin had the tomato flavor. The introduction of the electric current from the telephone wires produced a curious result. At night the pumpkins glow with a yellow incandescence, while the tomatoes are of a passionate red shade. The illumination is soft, but penetrating. Womeldorf says this is a good feature, because the vine has plenty of light to work all night, and so grows twice as fast.

LOST HIS ROLL.

Graves County Man Is Shy Seventy-Five Dollars.

W. F. Bennett, of Graves county, reported to the police this morning that he had lost $75 and did not know whether he had been "touched" or had dropped the money accidentally. Bennett was at the union depot last night when he missed the money. He looked all over the station for it without success. He retraced his steps to the depot and failed to uncover anything.

FROST WAS HEAVY WHERE SHELTERED

Strong Wind Protected Vegetation During Night.

Overcoats and Heavy Garments Were in Use This Morning by Everybody.

PADUCAH'S FIRST OF WINTER.

Frost nipped vegetation this morning on the leg of buildings. The strong wind last night protected vegetation in the open, but when the wind was cut off the white frost was plainly visible.

Few plants suffered, however, because housewives took the precaution to follow the warning in The Sun last evening.

The first touch of real cold weather arrived this morning and overcoats were conspicuous on the streets. Everyone owing an overcoat had it on except those few who were unfortunate enough to have left theirs at home, and this class is confined entirely to drummers. Drummers who came south shivered in the cold this morning in cab, car and every place they went.

The temperature sank to 38 this morning and unless the elements intervene a killing frost is predicted for tonight.

MIDDLE LIFE

A Time When Women Are Susceptible to Many Dread Diseases—Intelligent Women Prepare for it. Two Relate their Experiences.

The "change of life" is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason. Every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain.

When her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active—and with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, spasms before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system.

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and it will be furnished absolutely free of charge. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women.

Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I had been suffering with displacement of the organs for years and was passing through the change of life. My abdomen was badly swollen; my stomach was sore; I had dizzy spells, sick headaches, and was very nervous."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Mrs. A. E. G. Hyland

"I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all those distressing symptoms left me and I have passed safely through the change of life, a well woman. I am recommending your medicine to all my friends."—Mrs. Annie E. G. Hyland, Chester-town, Md.

Another Woman's Case

"During change of life words cannot express what I suffered. My physician said I had a cancerous condition of the female organs. One day I read some of the testimonials of women who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it and to write you for advice. Your medicine made me a well woman, and all my bad symptoms soon disappeared."

"I advise every woman at this period of life to take your medicine and write you for advice."—Mrs. Lizzie Hinkle, Salem, Ind.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle it will do for other women at this time of life.

It has conquered pain, restored health, and prolonged life in cases that utterly baffled physicians.

"Ah," said Miss Chayne. "It is very good of you to take pity upon two lone females. I was afraid that you had come off to the wilds of America or somewhere in search of big game. Do you know, Mr. Osgood, you are quite a celebrant? I heard you called the 'big game man' the other day; also the 'traveling fellow'."

For a moment there was a deadly struggle.

The specimen smiled happily under this delicate handling.

"Mr. Osgood has just been telling me," interrupted Lady Cantourne conversationally, "that he is thinking of going off to the wilds again."

"Then it is very disappointing of him," said Millicent, with a little droop of the eyelids which went home. "It seems to be the most interesting people who stay at home and live humdrum lives of ordinary duration."

"He seems to think that his friends are going to cast him off because his poor father died without the assistance of a medical man," continued the old lady meekly.

At this moment another visitor was announced and presently made his appearance. He was an old gentleman of no personality whatever, who was nevertheless welcomed enthusiastically because two people in the room had a distinct use for him. Lady Cantourne was exceedingly gracious. She remembered instantly that horticulture was among his conventional unimportant accomplishments, and she was immediately consumed with a desire to show him the conservatory which she had had built outside the drawing room window. She took a genuine interest in this mode of flowers and watered the plants herself with much enthusiasm when she remembered.

Added to a number of positive virtues the old gentleman possessed that of abstaining from tea, which enabled the two horticulturists to repulse to the conservatory at once, leaving the young people alone at the other end of the drawing room.

Millicent smoothed her gloves with downcast eyes and that demure air by which the talented fair lady the consciousness of being alone and out of others' earshot with an interesting member of the stronger sex.

They sat and watched the sned gloves with a certain sense of placid enjoyment. Then suddenly she spoke, continuing his remarks where they had been broken off by the advent of the useful old gentleman.

"You see," he said, "it is only natural that a great many people should give me the cold shoulder. My story was a little lame. There is no reason why they should believe in me."

"I believe in you," she answered. "It was a very unpleasant business," he said in a jerky, self-conscious voice. "I didn't know that I was that sort of fellow. The temptation was very great. I nearly gave in and let him do it. He was a stronger man than I. You know—we did not get on well together. He always hoped that I would turn out a literary sort of fellow, and I suppose he was disappointed. I tried at one time, but I found it was no good. From indifference it turned almost to hatred. He disliked me intensely, and I am afraid I did not care for him very much."

Millicent was listening gravely without interrupting—like a nun. She had the gift of adapting herself to her environments in a marked degree.

"And," he added earnestly, "no one knows how much I wanted that three thousand a year."

The girl moved intensely and glanced toward the conservatory.

"It was not the money that tempted me," said Guy very deliberately; "it was not."

She rose from her chair as if to join her aunt and the horticultural old gentleman.

"You must not say that," she said in little more than a whisper, and without looking round she went toward Lady Cantourne. Her eyes were gleaming with a singular suppressed eyes of a man fresh from a long run across country.

Guy Osgood rose also and followed more deliberately. There was nothing for him to do but take his leave.

"But," said Lady Cantourne graciously, "if you are determined to go away, you must at least come and say goodbye before you leave."

"Thanks; I should like to do so, if I may."

"We shall be deeply disappointed if you forget," said Millicent, holding out her hand, with a smile full of light heartedness and innocent English friendship.

CHAPTER VI.
"CURSE THIS COUNTRY! CURSE IT! CURSE IT!" The man spoke aloud, but there was no one near to hear. He shook his skinny yellow fist out over the broad river that crept greedily down to the equatorial sea.

All around him the vegetable kingdom had asserted its sovereignty. At his back loomed a dense forest, impenetrable to the foot of man, defying his puny hand armed with ax or saw.

The trees were not high, few of them being above twenty feet, but from their branches creepers and parasites hung in tangled profusion, interlaced, joining tree to tree for acres may, for miles.

As far as the eye could reach either bank of the slow river was thus covered with rank vegetation—miles after miles without variety, without hope.

The gassy surface of the water was broken here and there by certain black forms floating like logs half hidden beneath the wave. These were crocodiles.

The river was the Ogowe, and the man who cursed it was Victor Durnovo, employee of the League Trading association, whose business it was at that season to travel into the interior of Africa to buy, barter or steal ivory for his masters.

He was a small faced man, with a squarely aquiline nose and a black mustache which hung like a valance over his mouth. From the growth of that curl-like mustache Victor Durnovo's worldly prosperity might have been said to date. No one seeing him months before that time had prevailed upon to trust him. Nature has a way of laughing out signs and then covering them up so that the casual folk to see. He was a man of medium height, with abnormally long arms and a somewhat rickety way of walking, as if his foot was ever ready to kick anything or any person who might come in his way.

Victor Durnovo had sent his henchmen into the forest to find a few dates, a few handfuls of firewood, and while they were absent he gave vent to that wild unreasoning passion which is inhaled into the white man's lungs with the air of equatorial Africa.

"Curse this country!" he shouted. "Curse it, curse it—river and tree, man and beast!"

Presently a peacefulness seemed to come over him, for his eyes lost their glitter and his heavy lids drooped. His arms were crossed behind his head. Before him lay the river.

Suddenly he sat upright, all eagerness and attention. Not a leaf stirred. It was about 5 o'clock in the evening, the stillest hour of the twenty-four. In such a silence the least sound would travel almost any distance, and there was a sound traveling over the water to him. It was nothing but a third repeated with singular regularity, but to his practiced ears it conveyed much. He knew that a boat was approaching, or yet hidden by some distant curve in the river. The third was caused by the contact of six paddles with the gullies of the canoe as the paddlers withdrew them from the water.

Victor Durnovo rose again and brought from the boat a second rifle, which he laid beside the double barreled Remington which was never more than a yard away from him, waking or sleeping. Then he waited. He knew that no boat could reach the bank without his full permission, for all the rowers could be killed before they got within a hundred yards of his rifle. He was probably the best rifle shot but one in that country, and the other, the very best, happened to be in the approaching canoe.

After the space of ten minutes the boat came in sight—a long, black form on the still waters. It was too far away for him to distinguish anything beyond the fact that it was a native boat.

"Eight hundred yards," muttered Durnovo over the sight of his rifle.

He looked upon this river as his own, and he knew the native of equatorial Africa. Therefore he dropped a bullet into the water, under the bow of the canoe, at 800 yards.

A moment later there was a sound which can only be written "P-tt" between his legs, and he had to wipe a shower of dust from his eyes. A puff of blue smoke rose slowly over the boat and a sharp report broke the silence a second time.

Then Victor Durnovo leaped to his feet and waved his hat in the air. From the canoe there was an answering greeting, and the man on the bank went to the water's edge, still carrying the rifle from which he was never parted.

Edgar Allen Poe slept with his cat and was inordinately proud of his feet.

BANEFUL SYMPTOMS OF PARASITES GIVEN

St. Louis People Interviewed On The Subject.

It is Claimed by Cooper That Monster Worms Cause Majority of Stomach Troubles.

REPORTER GETS STATEMENTS

St. Louis, Oct. 9.—Nothing has done so much to arouse the people in St. Louis as the immense number of parasites or tape-worms that are being removed from individuals by a preparation known as Cooper's New Discovery.

This preparation is being introduced in this city for the first time by L. T. Cooper, the young philanthropist, who has made and is making a fortune by its sale. The medicine is prepared at Dayton, O., and is sold for various forms of stomach trouble. It is now being sold in St. Louis in such enormous quantities as to have caused a general discussion by physicians throughout the city.

Cooper claims that much suffering is the result of tape-worms, and stated early during his visit that the creatures were responsible for 50 per cent of all stomach trouble. This claim seems to be verified as fully one-half of the individuals who have taken this preparation have been relieved of one of these creatures.

A reporter, who spent an hour at Cooper's headquarters, secured statements from a number of people, who brought one of the creatures to the young man, yesterday. The following are some of these statements and are similar to all the rest:

Mr. Chas. H. Mertz, living at 4031 Easton, Ave., who brought with him a tapeworm about fifty feet in length, when questioned, said: "I have been in poor health for eight years. I have attributed it to my stomach, although I was not certain just what was the matter with me. I felt full most of the time and the least exertion tired me. I had a very irregular appetite and always had a coated tongue. I was troubled with shortness of breath, headaches, dizziness, sleeplessness and would see specks before my eyes if I stooped over and raised up quickly."

"My worst trouble was that I seemed to lack all ambition and it was difficult to attend to my business as I always felt tired even after a night's sleep. My mind seemed dull and sluggish most of the time and I had difficulty in remembering. I have had headache a great deal and have done everything possible, but could get no relief."

"I heard so much of this man Cooper, that last Wednesday I bought a bottle of his preparation. I did not use it till yesterday when I took two doses of it and about two hours ago a parasite left my system. I know now what made me feel so badly all these years. I consider this the most remarkable preparation I ever heard of. It has made life worth living for me once more and I am very thankful."

The statement of Mr. William Bracken, of 720 Morgan St., was as follows: "I had suffered with stomach trouble for three years. I was not sick enough to be in bed, but just felt bad all the time. My greatest trouble was that I always felt tired, would get up in the morning feeling as tired as when I went to bed."

"I had a very irregular appetite and was troubled with dizzy spells. If I stood for any length of time I would have a dull pain in the lower part of my back. I was nervous and felt all the time as though something terrible was going to happen. My memory has been getting bad during the past year and my eyesight is not as keen as it was. I have tried many kinds of medicines but nothing ever helped me."

"I had about given up all hope of ever being in good health again, when I heard so much of Cooper and decided to try his medicine. I bought one bottle of his New Discovery, as it is called. I took just three doses of the medicine and this tapeworm, which is over seventy feet in length, left my system. I never suspected that I had this thing. I feel better already and believe I will get back some of the flesh I had lost during the past few years. I would not have that thing in me again for a thousand dollars."

These statements and others like them go far toward accounting for Cooper's immense success here and elsewhere. So far every claim made by the young man seems to have been verified.

Edgar Allen Poe slept with his cat and was inordinately proud of his feet.

HEARST METHODS OF CAMPAIGNING

Red Fire, Music and Popular Moving Pictures.

Held Crowd Until Candidate and His Orators Reached the Meeting Place.

WHAT THEY PROMISE TO DO

New York, Oct. 10.—This was a Hearst gala night in the big campaign now gathering strength in New York City and throughout the state. The Democratic-Independence League candidate for governor began his whirlwind work in the metropolis, skipping in an automobile from the East Side tenement district over to the West Side, in the lower end of the district, which he now represents in congress, and thence northward into Harlem, addressing four meetings between 8 o'clock and midnight.

There was an outdoor meeting in Abington Square, in the fifth assembly district, which is embraced within the Hearst congressional territory. The story of this meeting will be interesting, for it reflects the spirit of the whole Hearst movement—the same movement which came so near to leading its leader in the mayoralty chair of Greater New York last fall, and which now, progressing along the same lines and with fuel added to the fires, puzzles the shrewdest observers in the matter of its result.

Abington Square is in the center of a district whose population is of a higher class than that of the lower East Side sections and other sections of the West Side. It does not take in the dress of the big city. The people are of the laboring class, and English is at least the court language, so to speak. From the stand erected in the middle of the square and brilliantly lighted by electric bulbs, a military band played popular and patriotic airs intermittently from early evening.

In the side streets red fire burned constantly. On a screen facing the stand moving pictures were displayed almost constantly. The demonstration, one of the many that is to be, ere this remarkable campaign is closed must have cost a good bit of money, and it was under the auspices of the Independence League.

Particular attention was called to the pictures that were displayed from the screen to amuse this West Side audience while they waited for more than two hours the arrival of Mr. Hearst, because Mr. Hearst when he did appear attacked a New York newspaper which is opposing his candidacy and branded it as a directory of crime, carrying through its advertising columns matter that belated the women and children of the home of the common people.

Several of the pictures represented high life of a certain kind in large cities. There were girls of Parisian cast in silks and furs, and there was toasting champagne. One picture depicted a slumming tour that wound up with the removal of the ash and valances from the dress-suit "angel" of the party after he had been made stupid by wine, the Parisian dunnets tucking the valances into the bosom of their lace waists and making their escape just before the light was shut from the screen. The picture was repeated several times.

Undoubtedly the Independence League did not select these scenes for the edification of the crowd. The man with the biograph contract did that but the crowd applauded them heartily between speeches.

There were six or eight speeches by orators of various degrees of ability before the climax that came with the appearance of Mr. Hearst.

But where were the issues, time-worn and revered, that the people of other generations have been wont to hear campaign after campaign? Scarcely a note touching the party questions of yesterday was heard.

It was an attack on men of wealth, on alleged social evils, and the promise that when Hearst is governor the poor man will have his lining.

MADE FROM NATIVE ROOTS. SAFE AND RELIABLE.

That the roots of many native plants, growing wild in our American forests, possess remarkable properties for the cure of human maladies is well proven. Even the untutored Indian has learned the curative value of some of these and taught the early settlers their uses. The Indian never liked work so he wanted his remedy to get well as soon as possible that he might go to the work and let him hunt. Therefore, he dug "pajoupe root" for her, for that was their great remedy for female weakness. Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription," skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective than any other medicine in curing all the various weaknesses and painful derangements peculiar to women.

Many afflicted women have been saved from the operating table and the surgeon's knife by timely use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Tenderness over the lower pelvic region, with backache, spells of dizziness, faintness, bearing down in pelvis or distress should be guarded. A course of "Favorite Prescription" will work marvelous benefit in all such cases, and generally effect a permanent cure if persisted in for a reasonable length of time. The "Favorite Prescription" is a harmless agent, being wholly prepared from native medicinal roots, without a drop of alcohol in its make up, whereas all other medicines, put up for sale through druggists for women's peculiar ailments, contain large quantities of poisonous liquors, which are very harmful, especially to delicate women. "Favorite Prescription" contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on each bottle wrapper. It is a powerful invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For weak and sickly women, who are "worn-out," or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office, or school-room, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will prove a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving power.

For constipation, the true, scientific cure is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Mild, harmless, yet sure.

Cleveland Mayor Says University of Chicago Teaches Lies.

Cleveland, Oct. 10.—"The University of Chicago teaches lies," declared Mayor Tom T. Johnson today in an interview with Professor Gates, of the theological faculty of the institution. "Every time I hear of the university," the mayor said, "I think of a man with a bald head and a wig, and can't help but believe that John D. Rockefeller, who pays half the institution's bills, must have something to say concerning the things taught there." Professor Gates called on the mayor to get information about the alleged railway situation. "If you think abstract of political and social conditions," said the mayor, "say what you think, then lose your job. I have no love for your University of Chicago. It teaches falsehoods."

PADUCAH VENEER COMPANY'S LOSS

By Fire and Water Will Be
About $5,000.

Spark From Cooperage Plant Supposed to Have Ignited Warehouse Full of Lumber.

FIREMEN DO HEROIC WORK

Hardly having returned from the steamer John S. Hopkins fire and another at Thirteenth and Burnett streets, No. 2 company was called at 10 o'clock to the Paducah Veneer & Lumber company's mill at the intersection of Mill and Myers streets. Fire was discovered in the warehouse on Myers street.

Four car loads of veneering were burned and ruined by water, the loss being between $3,000 and $5,000. Most of the damage was done by water, the thin strips of poplar and gum, curling up and splitting when wet. The insurance will cover the loss.

In the burning warehouse there was approximately $20,000 worth of lumber ready for shipment. It contained nearly a million feet. The only explanation of the source of the fire, is that a spark from the smoke stack of the Paducah Cooperage company entered the end of the warehouse, setting it on fire. The Paducah Cooperage company adjoins the Paducah Veneer and Lumber company.

When company No. 2 arrived, the employees already and the private fire fighting apparatus in operation, but the two-inch hose would not have been sufficient to put out the blaze. No. 4 company arrived soon afterward. The engine from No. 2 station was used effectively.

Few of the firemen have had breakfast today and they will combine dinner and breakfast. At 6:45 o'clock they were called to the John Hopkins fire. At 9 o'clock to a small fire at Thirteenth and Burnett streets and at 10 o'clock to the Paducah Veneer and Lumber company. Acting Chief Jake Elliott was in charge at all the fires and great satisfaction is expressed both by the owners of the boat and the veneer company at the promptness and ability with which the firemen responded.

THE PUTTY QUESTION

Up the Chimney is Where Half Your Fuel
Money Goes When the Ordinary Stove is Used

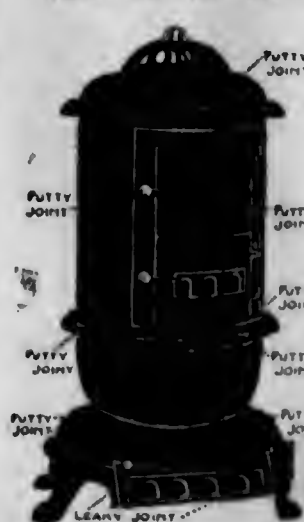

Stove putty is universally used by stove manufacturers for making tight joints in heating stoves. While the stove is brand new the putty does the work asked of it. A hot fire for a few months cracks the putty, it drops out of place, leaving the stove full of air leaking cracks, allowing the gases and the fuel and a big part of the heat generated to be sucked up the chimney and thus wasted.

More than one-half of all the fuel you put into the putty jointed stove is lost in this way. If your old stove eats up more fuel and does not keep fire as well as it did at first, the reason is the stove putty has dropped out of the joints.

Cole's Original Hot Blast

Stove Saves all Fuel and Heat Wasted by Other Heating Stoves

Burns Soft Coal, Hard Coal, Crushed Coke, Lignite, Slack or Wood.

CUT No. 2. Shows air leaking putty joint construction of other stoves.

No stove putty is used in the construction of this economical stove; it is not necessary, owing to the patented construction which makes the stove practically jointless. Cole's Hot Blast is the only heating stove in the world which is guaranteed to remain always air-tight. On account of the absolutely air-tight construction of Cole's Original Hot Blast Stoves, gases and the fuel are held back until they are consumed by the patented top Hot Blast draft, and both gases and heat which escape up the chimney with other stoves are thus saved to your profit and comfort—soft coal is half gas. As a result of this saving the fire is never out and the rooms are heated for two or three hours in the morning with the coal put in the Cole's Hot Blast Stove the night before.

Scientific Construction

Note the straight steel jacket encasing the heavy cast iron fire box inside, and the guaranteed smoke-proof feed door placed at the front of the top in Cole's Hot Blast Stove, shown by cut No. 1, doing away with air-leaking putty joints at top and bottom of fire pot and around the door frame on other stoves as shown by cut No. 2. The water-tight steel bottom and patented compound hinge for ash door, also the patented steel collar for joining the ash door frame to the heavy steel body so that it cannot be loosened by action of the fiercest heat, while of only technical interest, are special features in the Original Hot Blast Stove which combine to make it the most economical heating stove in the world. We are Exclusive Agents—avoid imitations.

Save $50.00 to $200.00. You cannot afford to say to yourself, "My old stove or an imitation stove at a little less price will have to do this winter." Other style stoves and all imitations of this Original Hot Blast are made with stove putty joints, and when you stop to think that $1.00 saved on the first cost of the stove means the loss of $50 to $200 in fuel during the life of the stove, you will readily see the advantage of buying Cole's Original Hot Blast, which holds fire just as well and is just as economical in fuel after years of use as the first day it was put up. REMEMBER that the words "Cole's Original Hot Blast from Chicago" appear on the feed door of the Original Patented Hot Blast stove. None genuine without this.
